FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WAKE FOREST CULTURAL ARTS SET TO KICK OFF SIX SUNDAYS IN SPRING

WAKE FOREST, NC – April 20, 2010 – From folk rock to bluegrass to soul, there’s something for all music lovers at this year’s Six Sundays in Spring Concert Series. Sponsored by the Wake Forest Cultural Arts Association (WFCAA), the weekly performances get underway Sunday, April 25, at the E. Carroll Joyner Park Amphitheater, 701 Harris Road, at 5 p.m. with Freddy Greene, also known as “The Street Genie.”

The performance is part of the WFCAA’s annual spring concert series featuring free, live, outdoor entertainment. Six Sundays offers area residents an opportunity to enjoy a variety of local and regional performers offering enriching cultural experiences.

Other artists performing in this year’s series include David Dyer and the Crooked Smile Band on May 2; Rootzie on May 9; John Brown on May 16; and the Milagro Saints on May 30. The May 23 performer will be announced at a later date.

All concerts begin at 5 p.m. Alcoholic beverages, firearms, and unleashed pets are prohibited.

In case of inclement weather, updated concert information will be available by calling (919) 554-6185, visiting www.wakeforestculturalarts.org, or tuning in to Community Channel 10.
