Eric Keravuori, Director of Engineering, and Chad Sary, Assistant Planning Director, were recently certified as members of the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP). Certification requires specific education and experience, plus passing a comprehensive examination administered by the American Planning Association (APA).

Keravuori came to Wake Forest in 1996 as the Town Engineer and was promoted to Director of Engineering in 2001. He earned a Master's in Business Administration from Campbell University in 1999 and received his undergraduate degree from UNC-Wilmington in 1990 after double majoring in Mathematics and Physics. Keravuori is also a 2001 graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill's Institute of Government's Municipal Administration program.

A planner for the Town since 1998, Sary was promoted to Assistant Planning Director in 2007. He received his Graduate's Degree in Facility Planning & Management from Ohio State University in 2006 and a Bachelor's Degree in Geography/Urban Planning from East Carolina University in 1996.

AICP is the APA's professional institute, providing recognized leadership nationwide in the certification of professional planners, ethics, professional development, planning education, and the standards of planning practice. Certified planners use their skills to find solutions to community problems in ways that will carry the community toward its desired long-term goals.
