ALSTON-MASSENBURG CENTER UPGRADES UNDERWAY

WAKE FOREST, NC – November 1, 2011 – Renovations at the Alston-Massenburg Center, 416 N. Taylor St., are underway.

The project includes enlarging the existing meeting room and incorporating audio-visual equipment, expanding and relocating the kitchen, and adding a lobby. Another notable addition will be the inclusion of a new restroom that is accessible to visitors of Taylor Street Park.

Due to the construction, the sidewalk along the front of the center is inaccessible, along with much of the parking lot and park. Residents and visitors in the area are urged to use caution and obey the posted warning signs.

The work is expected to be completed in June 2012.

The Town of Wake Forest apologizes for any inconvenience during this time. For more information, contact Facilities Manager Mickey Rochelle at (919) 435-9455 or mrochelle@wakeforestnc.gov.
