FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NC 98 BYPASS CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

WAKE FOREST, NC – September 8, 2009 – According to Boyd Tharrington, Resident Engineer, North Carolina Department of Transportation, closures and detours for Crenshaw Hall and Crenshaw Manor will occur in stages while work is performed to complete the NC 98 Wake Forest Bypass.

Stage 1

The subdivision exit on Jones Wynd will be closed at Old NC 98 on or about Sept. 14 and residents will be detoured through Crenshaw Hall. Traffic will be routed to the south on Jones Wynd, left on Clatter Avenue, and left on Flemming House Street where traffic will be allowed to exit Crenshaw Hall with a right turn only at Old NC 98.

Stage 2

At a date to be determined, Flemming House Street will also be closed at Old NC 98. Once this occurs, both entrances on Old NC 98 will remain closed for a period of approximately 21 days. Traffic will be routed to Federal House Avenue by way of Clatter Avenue and Flemming House Street. Traffic will turn right on Federal House Avenue and left on Warmoven Street to Retail Drive.

Old NC 98 Highway Detour Information

Jason Poppy, NCDOT's Project Inspector, reports that traffic travelling will be detoured from Old NC 98 Highway to Thompson Mill Road and Durham Road, NC 98 Business, while work is taking place near the entrances to Crenshaw Hall and Crenshaw Manor.

Updated Detour Information

This information is subject to change, so please look to the lighted message boards to be installed on Falls of Neuse Road and Old NC 98 within the upcoming days for updated information.

The Town of Wake Forest has created a web page for area residents who wish to track the progress of the NC 98 Wake Forest Bypass Project. For more information, visit www.wakeforestnc.gov/nc98wakeforestbypass.aspx.
