

Our Town

Sept/Oct 2019

TOWN of WAKE FOREST

Good Neighbor Day will be held at E. Carroll Joyner Park on Saturday, Sept. 21.

It's a great time to meet your GOOD NEIGHBORS

The Wake Forest Human Relations Council will sponsor the 14th Annual Good Neighbor Day on Saturday, Sept. 21. This free, family-friendly event is scheduled from 1-4 p.m. at E. Carroll Joyner Park, 701 Harris Road.

Good Neighbor Day assembles people from all walks of life for a day of food, fun, and family entertainment. By bringing together a mix of cultures, music, ages, and ethnicities, the event celebrates diversity and promotes goodwill among all of Wake Forest's citizens.

A special part of this year's Good Neighbor Day will be the presentation of the "Good Neighbor of the Year" Award.

Free wall calendar available in late September »

Pick up your free 2020 Wake Forest wall calendar during Good Neighbor Day on Saturday, Sept. 21, at E. Carroll Joyner Park. Beginning Monday, Sept. 23, calendars will be available at Wake Forest Town Hall.

Police stress importance of securing vehicles & firearms »

Since nearly all the reported car break-ins in Wake Forest involve unlocked vehicles, police officials constantly plead with residents to lock their car doors. Now, those pleas are taking on an even greater sense of urgency. Since Jan. 1, 2019, the police department has received over 65 reports of motor vehicle break-ins totaling over $25,000 in stolen property—including nine handguns.

Every firearm owner is responsible for ensuring that their gun is always under their control and when it is not, that it is placed in locked storage and out of sight. Additionally, a firearm should be stored in such a manner that it is inaccessible to children or other unauthorized persons. Hiding a gun in a closet, drawer or unlocked vehicle is not safe storage. Safe storage involves employing precautions and multiple safeguards that provide an additional barrier against unauthorized use.

For more information about proper firearm storage, visit www.projectchildsafes.org.

Music at Midday returns in September

Residents are invited to enjoy great music during the lunch hour at the Music at Midday weekly concert series.

Presented by ARTS Wake Forest and the PRCR Department, the free music series begins Thursday, Sept. 5, and continues on consecutive Thursdays through Sept. 26. Scheduled from noon to 1 p.m., the concerts feature a variety of local performers and take place in Centennial Plaza, the gateway to town hall.

Low-Poly Open Heart by Matthew Duffy is on display at the Wake Forest Renaissance Centre Arts Annex.

2019–20 public art exhibits now open

The Wake Forest Public Art Commission has opened two temporary public art exhibits for 2019–20.

■ The Wake Forest Outdoor Sculpture Exhibit features six three-dimensional works of art in publicly-accessible spaces including the Wake Forest Town Hall campus, the Wake Forest Renaissance Centre, Miller Park, Holding Park, Smith Creek Soccer Center and the Depot Parking Lot.

■ The Spotlight on Local Artists exhibit features five original paintings reproduced in large format and applied to local buildings in brick vinyl wrap. The buildings include the Wake Forest Renaissance Centre, Public Facilities Building, Flaherty Park Community Center, Taylor Street Park Sprayground and the Alston-Massenburg Center. The featured artists are Dr. Jane D. Steelman, Aline Long, Linda Hauser, Maureen Seltzer and Clina Polloni.

Brochures highlighting the locations of the works are available at the Renaissance Centre and town hall.

Collection guidelines now in effect

The Town of Wake Forest and Republic Services crews are now "tagging" residents that violate trash, recycling and yard waste collection guidelines. Town sanitation customers may receive a "Non-Collection Notice" tag for a variety of reasons, including:

- Trash/recycling carts that are overfull, too close to another cart or blocked
- Trash/recycling placed in the wrong cart or improper container
- Trash/recycling carts that contain hazardous materials, soil, concrete or brick
- Recycling carts that contain plastic bags or wrap
- Bulk trash that includes cardboard that needs to be broken down
- Items that must be scheduled for bulk collection
- Electronics that are not eligible for curbside pickup
- Yard waste that exceeds four cubic yards permitted per household

- Limbs, leaves and trash that must be separated
- Leaves containing soil, rocks, limbs, concrete or brick

Complete information about Town sanitation guidelines is available online and in the Resident's Guide to Trash, Recycling & Yard Waste Pickup.

We'll come speak to your group

Public Works Department staff are available to speak to local civic groups, homeowners associations and other organizations about Town sanitation guidelines. For more information, contact Assistant Public Works Director Allison Snyder at 919-435-9585 or asnyder@wakeforestnc.gov.

Bi-monthly leaf collection set to begin in October

Beginning in October, the Town of Wake Forest will transition from providing weekly to bi-monthly (twice a month) loose-leaf collection service.

During its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 16, the Wake Forest Board of Commissioners approved the new schedule, which calls for crews to service each town street twice each month.

For years, the Town has attempted to provide weekly loose-leaf collection service with mixed success. Several factors, including weather, mechanical issues and the sheer volume of leaves, have made it difficult, and sometimes impossible, to honor such a schedule.

Wake Forest Dance Festival returns to Joyner Park

Presented by ARTS Wake Forest and the Wege Foundation, in partnership with the Parks, Recreation & Cultural Resources, the Wake Forest Dance Festival will bring a day of dance to the Triangle in a spectacular outdoor setting. Free and open to the public, this family-friendly event will take place Saturday, Oct. 5, at E. Carroll Joyner Park, 701 Harris Road.

The event will feature international, national and regional professional dancers from the Wake Forest dance community and beyond, along with local rising advanced dance performers.

The festival will begin with an educational technical rehearsal at 9:30 a.m. and culminate with a staged performance at 5:30 p.m.

wakeforestdancefestival.org

National Night Out is Monday, Oct. 7

The Wake Forest Police Department is encouraging area residents, businesses, neighborhood groups, and homeowners' associations to show their support for police-community crime prevention partnerships by participating in Wake Forest's National Night Out (NNO) on Monday, Oct. 7.

The event will take place from 5-7:30 p.m. in the Renaissance Centre parking lot, 405 S. Brooks St. The occasion promises something for everyone, including a DJ, food and special prizes, and fire, police, and EMS vehicle displays, along with a variety of booths highlighting crime prevention and safety.

Wake Forest Police officers will be on hand distributing information on topics such as vehicle security, home security and personal safety. The police department will also offer a K-9 demonstration and D.A.R.E. presentation and share information on Neighborhood Watch, Special Olympics and more.

Although NNO is offered nationally on the first Tuesday in August, the WFPD schedules its event each year on the first Monday in October to take advantage of cooler temperatures.

POLICE

Residents warned to stay off railroad tracks

Although many people think train tracks are open to public access, all railroad tracks are private property. That's why Wake Forest officials are warning residents to stay off the tracks year-round but especially during downtown events.

Besides being illegal, walking along railroad tracks can be highly dangerous and even deadly. According to the NCDOT, 18 people were killed and 13 others injured in 2018 while trespassing on North Carolina railroad tracks.

The NC Department of Transportation is reminding residents of the following safety tips:

- The only safe and legal place to cross railroad tracks is at designated public crossings.
- Railroad tracks, trestles, yards and rights-of-way are private property, and using them as photo backdrops is trespassing.
- Trains cannot stop quickly to avoid people or vehicles on the railroad tracks.
- It is difficult to determine a train's speed from a distance. Trains typically overhang the track by at least three feet.
- Never assume railroad tracks are abandoned or inactive.
- Due to new technology, approaching trains are much quieter than you'd expect, so don't assume you'll hear one coming.

Wake Forest named state's first "Monarch Town USA"

Monarch City USA, a non-profit that advocates for cities and town to actively recover their monarch butterfly populations, has named Wake Forest the first "Monarch Town USA" in North Carolina. The designation means Wake Forest is committed to preserving and growing the monarch butterfly population.

Monarchs rely on the milkweed and nectar plants for their food and home. According to the Monarch City USA website, monarchcityusa.com, nearly a billion monarch butterflies have vanished since 1990 because those plants are disappearing across America. Monarch City USA encourages municipalities across the nation to reverse the trend and support the monarch butterfly population by planting monarch milkweed and nectar plants.

Wake Forest's butterfly garden, which features the monarch-attracting milkweed and nectar plants, is in E. Carroll Joyner Park, 701 Harris Road. Town crews recently installed signage at the park identifying the butterfly habitat.
